

Pilar Cyst

Pilar or trichilemmal cysts are clinically indistinguishable from epidermal cysts but differ from them in free

Pilar cyst = 0000 00000
l liston athology
Histopathology.
The epithelial cells close to the cystic cavity appear swollen and are filled with pale cytoplasm. These s

Pilar cyst = 0000 00000
Whereas focal calcification of the cyst content does not occur in epidermal cysts, foci of calcification are Trichilemmal cysts frequently disclose small, acanthotic foci in their walls that are indistinguishable from

Pilar cyst = [] [[[[[[[[[[[[[[[[[[[
----------------	---	--

Pathogenesis

Pilar cv	/st -	ппп	ПП	пппп	П
r IIai G	/ St _				11

Pilar cysts were originally called sebaceous cysts. The name was changed whe

Electron microscopic examination of the epithe	elial lining of trichilemmal cysts shows that, on their way fr
Differential Diagnosis .	Even though both the pilar cyst and the proliferating tric

Pilar cyst = 0000 00000